

HØRNING PARKET

Malmö Live, Sweden

Reference

Project description

The new 54,000 square metres concert, congress and hotel complex is situated on Universitetsholmen in Malmö. The building consists of cubic areas that are twisted and given different sizes to match the directions and heights of buildings in the surrounding city.

The facades are designed with a homogeneous expression to make the composition appear as one architectural sculpture.

Malmö Live is an open, expressive, dynamic building offering numerous activities within its architecture. The point of departure for the building's design is the modern Scandinavian architectural tradition, which focuses on clear, functional organisation and an accessible, open ground floor layout.

Inside, three volumes hold a large symphony hall, a flexible hall and a conference hall, which are clearly defined elements that, through their mutual composition, set the tone for the musicality of the building.

The ground floor is fully available to the public so that the citizens can pass through the building, whether going to a concert, congress, at the coffee shop or just want to take a shortcut.

Hørning Parket type Inline Oak nature oiled was selected for all the open walking areas, the symphony hall and the stairs because of its lively and light impression and the high quality ensuring a long lifetime.

Easy and fast installation combined with a positive effect on the environment due to no sanding inside the building also made Hørning Parket Inline a natural choice.

HØRNING PARKET Reference Malmö Live

The exterior

The internationally well known and respected Danish architects Schmidt-Hammer-Lassen realized the Malmö Live complex. Constructed by Skanska Sweden in 2015.

The Restaurant

The smoked oak Castle Plank elevates the exclusive touch in the Skybar

Perfect in the detail

An essential part of Hørning Parket's competences is to bring the architectural details of the stairs, stair treads and skirtings into life.

The Stairways

The steps on the stairways from Hørning Parket are tailor-made ready for installation in the same Oak In-line as the floors.

